2. FURTHER ACTION

If a demand for international preliminary examination is made, this opinion will usually be considered to be a written opinion of the International Preliminary Examining Authority ("IPEA"). However, this does not apply where the applicant chooses an Authority other than this one to be the IPEA and the chosen IPEA has notified the International Bureau under Rule 66.1bis(b) that written opinions of this International Searching Authority will not be so considered.

If this opinion is, as provided above, considered to be a written opinion of the IPEA, the applicant is invited to submit to the IPEA a written reply together, where appropriate, with amendments, before the expiration of three months from the date of mailing of Form PCT/ISA/220 or before the expiration of 22 months from the priority date, whichever expires later.

For further options, see Form PCT/ISA/220.

2. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application and necessary to the claimed invention, this opinion has been established on the basis of:
  - a. type of material:
    - ☐ a sequence listing
    - ☐ table(s) related to the sequence listing
  - b. format of material:
    - ☐ in written format

D1: WO 98/27055 A (TECHNION RES & DEV FOUNDATION ; WEINSTOCK
ROSIN MARTA (IL); YISSUM RES) 25 June 1998 (1998-06-25)

1. D1 discloses the preparation of the title compounds starting from an optically active unsubstituted alpha-amino-indane (I) with a four step process.
2. Presently claimed process starts already from the substituted en-amide derivative according to formula (III) and using further different steps: asymmetric hydrogenation of the double bond to give the amide (II) and subsequent hydrolysis of the amide derivative (II) to give the title compound (I).
The subject matter of present claims 1 to 24 is thus considered to be novel over said prior art (PCT Article 33.2).
3. In view of D1 the underlying problem is defined by the provision of a process which results in higher yields compared with the process of D1.
The solution of this problem is represented by the claimed process whereby the starting or intermediate compound of formula III represents the most important feature. The yields obtained by the claimed process are high.
No hint can be found in the prior art that a compound acc. to formula (III) can be used as starting compound in a process using different steps for preparing the title compounds.
The subject matter of present claims 1 to 24 is thus considered to be based on an inventive step over said prior art (PCT Article 33.3).
4. Industrial applicability can be acknowledged for all claims 1 to 24 (PCT Article 33.4).
